As interior designer, Wendy Black Rodgers explains: "you can encourage a room in your own home to bloom. Pick a focal point and make that the most important feature," she advises. "This space at the Wrigley Mansion came together when we found the floral wall mural from AREA Environments [available through Trade Professionals at MADE, Materials for Designers, Scottsdale]. As for the furnishings, think fanciful, fashionable and just a hint of French flair. "Choose plush seating and sparkly light fixtures, and don't be afraid to juxtapose historical pieces with some modern elements, such as a clear glass waterfall coffee table." While furniture is obviously integral to any room, in Black Rodger's opinion it's the accessories that make the space special. "Vintage accents will add warmth, character and charm to any lady's lair." Phoenix Magazine, By Carly Scholl | Photography by Debby Wolvos.
